Debtor's Petition for an Allowance and Order Thereon.

STATE OF MAINE.

PENOBSCOT, ss., Court of Insolvency

In the case of John M Sullivan and Alfred Jones copartners as Sullivan & Jones, individually and as copartners, insolvent debtors

To the Honorable John E Godfrey, Judge of the Court of Insolvency in and for said County

Respectfully represents Alfred Jones aforesaid the insolvent debtor that his family consists of himself his wife and five children, seven of whom are dependent on him for support that the assets belonging to his individual estate will probably amount to the sum of three hundred dollars that the assets of the copartnership estate of said Sullivan & Jones, will probably amount to the sum of four thousand, seven hundred and fifty dollars Wherefore he prays that such sum may be allowed to him out of said copartnership estate and out of his said individual estate for the necessary support of himself and his family, as to your Honor shall appear just and proper

ALFRED JONES

Notice on the petition ordered to be given by publication two times in the Bangor Daily Whig and Courier once a week for two successive weeks, and hearing on same to be had on first Tuesday of September, A D 1879, at 10 A M, at Court of Insolvency at Probate Court Room in Bangor, in said County

Cuticura
BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

The scourge of mankind —Of all methods of treatment and remedies a failure

CUTICURA RESOLVENT the great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant is the most searching cleansing, and purifying agent of this century It may be detected in the saliva, sweat milk blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life filling the body with foul corruptions Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of Cuticura, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm Scald Head Dandruff, and all Itching and scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP,
Breast and Limbs Cured

Messrs Weeks & Potter Gentlemen,—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful Cuticura Remedies which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease I dispensed with all physicians two years ago believing they did me no good The Cuticura has stopped the unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long looked for cure and happiness

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp breast and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral Springs, or taking some kind of medicine I have been treated by Drs —— Dr —— —— and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines all without the faintest approach to a cure

About last, I began the use of Cuticura, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me I have not had a clean scalp for 16 years until the use of the Cuticura entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the Cuticura Resolvent as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies

STEPHEN CROWELL

Yours etc,

GREENBACK ROMANCING.

A citizen of Des Moines, Iowa, sends us the extract printed below as cut by him from a Democratic paper published in Fairfield, Iowa, and asks us "to tell "just how much truth or otherwise there is to the 'stickful' in the story." Here it is:

Mr. Stubbs during his recent canvass in Maine made eleven speeches to the people of that State. From what mention we have seen made of them in eastern papers they were some of the biggest meetings of the campaign, and Mr. Stubbs' manner of dealing with his subject was received with the most manifest demonstrations of approval. Mr. Stubbs says that nothing but the wealth of the Republican party, the untiring labor of the administration, and the actual "bull-dozing" and purchasing of votes, saved the State from being carried by the Greenbackers. As an instance of the manner in which the "loyal, liberty-loving" Republicans of that State treat their opponents he tells the following: One night at a meeting at which he spoke in Bangor there was present a prominent pastor of one of the churches who all his life had been a Republican. The next day after hearing Mr. Stubbs' speech he came out and declared openly that his eyes had been opened, and he could see, and could no longer be a member of the Republican party. He announced himself as a Greenbacker. Soon after this the Greenback convention to nominate candidates for the legislature met and put in nomination this new convert. The Democrats did the same. Immediately the minister was waited on by a committee of his church and told that if he deserted republicanism and took up with either the Greenback or Democrat parties he would be dismissed by his congregation; that they could not support a man who would join any such parties. The preacher told them that his mind was made up; they might, if they saw fit, refuse to have him longer connected with their church, but they could not hinder him from preaching the gospel nor from obeying the honest convictions of his judgment. He reminded them that had such a proceeding occurred down south, it would have been heralded in every Republican paper in the north as an additional reason for fighting and hating the people of that region. He considered it as bad in Maine as in Mississippi, and thought the Republicans of Bangor were no better than the Democrats of Yazoo. He accepted the nomination tendered him and was triumphantly elected.

We can assure our Iowa friend that there is not a scintilla of truth, or of anything that even remotely resembles truth, in the foregoing yarn.

We have an indistinct recollection of having seen the euphonious name of Stubbs in some published list of the Greenback tramps in this State, and he may have delivered speeches in some remote places; but Bangor never was honored with Stubb's presence to our knowledge, and if he told the above story to the Iowa Democratic editor, he must have been inspired by delirium tremens.

It would seem probable that Stubbs, about whose entity there was more or less doubt, was a Greenback contribution from Iowa, and that on his return he regaled the local Democratic editor with Munchausen stories of his prowess and conquests on the stump. If there was such a person as Stubbs, and if he did talk fiat-ism anywhere in Maine, he probably put as little truth into his speech as he did into his subsequent boast of his achievements.

Our Iowa friend is authorized to make the following corrections of the Stubb's story: He never addressed any meeting in Bangor; no prominent pastor of this city was converted to Greenbackism by Stubbs; no pastor of any kind was nominated for the Legislature in this city by any political party; of course no such controversy between a pastor and church occurred; and no Greenback pastor was "triumphantly elected," but on the contrary the Republicans of Bangor elected all three of their Representatives by large majorities. Having eliminated the falsehood that forms the warp and woof of Stubbs' story, our Iowa friend can judge how much importance to attach to the vaporings of such a fellow about "bulldozing" and the "purchasing of votes." Stubbs, like his story, is a cheap fraud.

DEATH OF REV. LEANDER S. COAN.

On opening the Concord Monitor of Friday we were shocked to find in the leading editorial the announcement of the death of Rev. Leander S. Coan, at his residence in Alton, N. H., on Wednesday evening. The character of his sickness is not stated, but it must have been brief as the news of his death came entirely unexpected to his friends in Concord and elsewhere.

Mr. Coan was most widely known as the author of the stirring and patriotic lyrics styled "The Old Corporal Ballads," and of other poems of more than ordinary merit. He was a prominent member of the G. A. R., and had all the fervor of a true soldier in upholding the principles for which he and his comrades contended under the Stars and Stripes. Many of his lyrics were originally printed in the Monitor, but quite a number were contributed by him to our columns, and as late as Sept. 5, we printed as received from him a ringing appeal of the Old Corporal to the patriots of Maine to "Fall In" once more under the Old Flag.

Mr. Coan was a native of Exeter in this County, and his father, Dea. Samuel Coan, and a brother, Elisha S. Coan, M. D., now reside in the town of Garland. The deceased had been settled for some years as pastor of a small Congregational society at Alton, N. H., and the wants of his large family as well as his literary taste impelled him to add to his ministerial labors more or less writing for the press and considerable work as a lecturer. For several years he visited the region about Katahdin and was an enthusiast over its wild and romantic scenery. When coming and going on these trips he rarely failed to give us a pleasant call.

As a patriot and soldier his sympathies were naturally and strongly with the Republican party, in its championship of nationality and equal rights, and some of his Old Corporal Ballads, notably "Hill's Brigade" and others, obtained wide circulation as campaign documents. Perhaps the most remarkable and touching of all his poems is that entitled "Better in the mornin'" the pathos of which has rarely been exceeded. We know he had intended publishing a volume of his writings, and it is said that the work is now going through the press. We hope that it may be so and that his patriotic lines may find a wide circulation, not only for their intrinsic merit, but also as a needed help to the family he has left behind.

AN EDITOR OUT OF THE TRACES.

The Commercial publishes in "editorial correspondence" which we suppose means Mr. Goodwin, an interview with Solon Chase, in which that worthy says the Greenbackers next year will have no fusion but nominate straight tickets; that the candidate will not be Joseph L. Smith "for he is out of the race;" and that he is going to drive "them steers" through the streets of Boston. The editor of the late Greenback organ of Penobscot County, named the Commercial, thus comments on his interview with Solon:

Democrats who read this letter will, perhaps, like myself, fail to understand how the grand old Democratic party, which has always represented the people, is to be benefitted by any longer acting as tender to the Greenback party. Uncle Solon like Congressman Murch is of the opinion that the Democracy must ride behind, and his frank revelations in regard to the future movements of his Greenback party associates, and his views of the situation in the country and in New York in particular, will not fail to impress any man who has one drop of Democratic blood in his veins.

WHAT IS THE REMEDY?

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

The shooting of a postmaster, because he did not allow the mails to be rifled in the interests of Democracy and Reform, occurred quite naturally in South Carolina, the State which pleases to be represented in the Senate by Massacre Butler and by Fun-at-the-Fair Hampton. Mr. Butler is the person whose sole claim to the suffrages of his fellow-citizens was that he had been more responsible than anybody else for the infamous massacre of colored people at Hamburg. Mr. Hampton is the person who made the most solemn pledges that, if left unrestrained by the presence of United States troops, he would take care that all the laws should be faithfully enforced, and all the rights of all citizens faithfully respected and defended. That he has never made any attempt whatever to keep his pledges the whole world knows. Their chief fruit was the gigantic fraud perpetrated by Hampton's friends and party through the systematic use of tissue-ballots. A State that is so represented in the Senate can hardly be expected to find local officials who enforce the laws with especial fidelity. Nor can it be expected that public opinion in such a State will lean rather to the defenders of justice and law than to the murderers of helpless colored people and the stuffers of ballot-boxes. A tree is known by its fruit, and the latest fruit of South Carolina barbarism is the presence of Hampton and Butler in the Senate.

The friends of Butler, the hero of the massacre, had been doing as they pleased at the post-office in Blackville. They had robbed the mails openly, and without resistance, in order to deprive Republicans of letters and papers to which they were entitled, and the postmistress, being of the Hampton-Butler persuasion in politics, did nothing to protect the mails intrusted to her charge. Properly she was removed, and ought never to have been appointed. Frederick Nix, a colored Republican, whose letters show that he is a man of intelligence and fidelity, was appointed, and the massacre-loving Democrats found that they could no longer tamper with the mails. Thereupon they first threatened and finally shot him, and but for the bad aim of the assassin Mr. Nix would now be as helpless as Judge Chisolm, his daughter and his boy, or Dixon, the murdered candidate for Sheriff in Yazoo County. This, in brief, is the history of the case. Senator Butler, whose sympathy with the assassins is natural, manifests his feelings by a letter, in which he sets up the usual Democratic plea. Nix, he says, was a very bad man, dangerous, turbulent and incompetent. The facts prove that Mr. Butler's assertion has not a word of truth in it, but it does not appear that being convicted of falsehood does any harm to his reputation. No doubt, now that the shooting is over, he will observe that it was a "deplorable event," but insist that it was entirely due to the fact that Nix was a bad man. All the Republicans who get in the way of Democratic assassins are very bad men, we notice.

What is the Government to do? It is physically impossible to put about every postmaster or other official in the South a sufficient military force to protect him in the performance of his duties. Yet what is a Government worth that does not make any effort to defend its officers in the discharge of their trusts? Great Britain has made it known that any nation or any mob, anywhere on the face of the earth, that assails a British official in the performance of his duty, must render a strict account. Nay, if a simple citizen of Great Britain, clothed with no official powers, and guarded only by that protecting care which is given to every subject of the British flag, suffers any wrong whatever, whether from cannibals on an island of the South Seas, from savage rulers in the heart of Africa, or from subjects of the most powerful nations of Europe, it is certain that the matter will have to be settled, either peaceably or at the demand of a British army or fleet. The red-shirted mob who assassinate an officer of the United States in South Carolina or Louisiana do not dare to lift a finger against an official of Great Britain; and it must be confessed with shame that the flag of Great Britain gives a better protection to its subjects, even in portions of this country, than the flag of the United States gives, in the United States, to officials who represent its majesty and power.

It is about time this thing should stop. The remedy contemplated in directions from Washington is inadequate. A community in which a public officer can be shot with impunity is not only unworthy of any aid from the Government; it ought to be made to feel, in some definite and impressive way, that violated law has terrors for the guilty. What good would it do to close all the post offices in lawless or rebellious towns? That would punish law-abiding citizens of distant States even more than the ignorant and brutal creatures who perpetrate a crime. When officials are shot because they try to enforce the revenue laws, is it a remedy to shut up the offices and let the community go untaxed? President Hayes should give more serious attention to this matter than has yet been given. Where individuals violate laws of the United States, and the community sustains them, and local officials refuse to enforce law against them, there actually exists a state of insurrection against the authority of the United States. It is high time to ascertain what is to be done with this condition of chronic rebellion, which exists in many portions of the South.

IS THIS A FREE COUNTRY?

HOW A USEFUL CITIZEN IS TREATED IN WEST VIRGINIA.

[Wash. Cor. N. Y. Tribune.]

In the Spring of 1870 a benevolent old gentleman named Taylor, who had accumulated a competency in business pursuits in Philadelphia, went to Greenbrier County, West Virginia, and purchased 2,700 acres of land with a view to making his home upon it. Two years later he closed up his business in Philadelphia and removed with his family to West Virginia, where he had in the meantime begun an extensive system of improvements. He built a fine residence, large grist and saw mills, a shop with expensive wood-working machinery, a store, post-office, church, school-house and several dwellings, and in short established the village of Salem, Greenbrier Co., West Va. He constructed roads, bridges, etc., and seems to have expended liberally for any purpose which promised to promote the material or moral well-being of his neighborhood, without, as he declares, receiving one cent of benefit for himself from the investment. His total outlay exceeded, by a considerable sum, $100,000.

Mr. Taylor took no active part in politics whatever. Notwithstanding this, he experienced at intervals considerable annoyance from a number of his ex-rebel neighbors because it was hinted that he was "a d—— Yankee and they had no use for him." Mr. Taylor has written a letter to the Attorney General from which the following extract descriptive of his late experience is taken:

On December 7, 1878, 9 p. m., while myself and family were attending divine service in the S. S. room over my saw-mill, my residence was fired and it and contents totally destroyed. Loss, $10,000.

On March 6, 1879, they fired and utterly destroyed my mill, and almost its entire contents. Loss about $15,000. No insurance on either.

On the night of the burning of my house an anonymous letter was dropped in the Post Office-box at my store professing friendship and warning me of certain individuals, with the palpable purpose of throwing the onus of the fire upon them. On Wednesday, April 23, I received the following drop letter: "Mr. Taylor: I am sorry to hear of your late burning of to-day. Carpenter shop, tools, lumber, carriages, shedding, etc., etc., accidentally caught from burning brush; loss about one thousand dollars. Now for your house if you don't be getting away. I warned you the night that your house catched but you did not take heed. Now you have nothing left but your house and barns, which will not take long to go. I have but a few words this time. A lover of Truth. Take heed from me 1879."

Mr. Taylor says that he traced the authorship of this letter to one of his neighbors, and made the facts known to the authorities, but was unable to secure the slightest assistance toward the arrest of the suspected person or the protection of his property. He continues:

Since the burning of my mill, and failure of my application for help to the authorities, I have been obliged at considerable expense to guard my buildings with armed watchmen. Have been closing out my personal property as rapidly as possible; but it would seem by the last communication not fast enough for them. Succeeded in renting my store and arranging for the transfer of the post-office to a native, tendered my resignation as Post master to the Department, and named my successor. Before the requisite papers came, the new incumbent became frightened and threw up his lease and his position, packed up his goods and left, leaving my stock again in jeopardy. I immediately packed my store goods, which are now in wagons out in the weather awaiting opportunity for disposal, and abandoned the store and contiguous dwelling to its fate. As my life had been threatened I arbitrarily transferred the post-office to a neighbor and informed the Department of my action."

Since making this report, Mr. Taylor has been in Washington and talked with the officials of the Department of Justice and the Post Office Department. After making due allowance for the prejudices which must have been produced in his mind by his inhospitable experience, those who talked with Mr. Taylor were convinced of the truth of the above statements. The Attorney General was compelled to say that nothing could be done by the Government. The Post Office Department had not received any reports of the occurrences, and had therefore done nothing.

Mr. Taylor became convinced before he left Salem that one of the principal motives for the later atrocities was the fact that he had made a report of an assault committed by a neighboring postmaster, a Democrat, upon a Republican mail carrier. This report was mailed at Salem, and had to pass through the hands of the postmaster whom it implicated. It never reached the Department.

ENTERPRISE. The Commercial on Saturday evening printed an absurd story about a movement on foot to prevent Senator Blaine from going to Ohio to aid to a Republican victory. Twenty-four hours before the Commercial's paragraph was printed Senator Blaine had begun his labors on the Ohio stump, as stated in the despatch below:

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 26. Senator Blaine delivered his first speech in the Ohio campaign to-day, at Bellaire, on the Ohio River. He was greeted with a marked show of enthusiasm by a crowd numbering not less than 10,000 people. It was perhaps the largest political meeting in the present campaign. Working men deserted their shops, from Bellaire all the way up to Martin's Ferry. Special trains and steamers brought delegations from all surrounding points. Mr. Blaine was delayed four hours at Pittsburg, and it was only by a rapid drive in a conveyance from Wheeling that he was able to fulfill his appointment. His appearance was the occasion of loud and prolonged cheers.

MAINE NEWS.

HORRIBLE MURDER.

At West Cumberland.

THE VICTIM A YOUNG FARMER.

NO CLUE TO THE PERPETRATOR.

Details of the Horrible Butchery.

PORTLAND, Sept. 27. Joseph A. Lowe, a farmer at West Cumberland, went home from a dance at the Fair last night at a late hour, and was found this morning in his barn murdered, having evidently been struck on the head with an axe. His age was thirty and he was unmarried; he was living with his sister. The coroner and officers have gone out; tramps are suspected. Lowe was doorkeeper at the dance and probably had all the money taken at the door. It is also suggested that the murderers may have mistaken him for the Treasurer of the Fair, who lives next house to him and who probably had a large amount of money with him.

Further Particulars—The Victim—A Suspicious Circumstance.

Joseph Andrew Lowe lived on a farm ten and a half miles from the city on the direct Gray road on the westerly side of Presumpscot river, and carried on the farm with his brother-in-law, Ezra Ramsey. He returned from the dance at the Fair grounds, two miles distant, with his youngest sister, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Frank, Geo. W. Morrill, a neighbor, riding back with them. They reached home between two and three A. M. Morrill got out at the door yard and offered to help put up the horse, which was declined, and they drove into the yard. Joseph went into the front door and through the house to let his sister in at the back door. The latter door was open, which excited his suspicions.

Lowe's Absence Creates Alarm.

He told her to wait and not come until he had looked around to see what was the matter. He struck a light and looked through the house, but found everything all right and the rest of the family quietly asleep. Mrs. Frank then came in and he took the team to the barn some rods beyond the house and put it up. After waiting some twenty minutes and not hearing him return his sister grew uneasy and going to the end door of the house towards the barn she called his name several times without receiving an answer. Now thoroughly alarmed she aroused her brother-in-law, Mr. Ramsey, and told him she feared something had happened to Joseph, as he was gone so long at the barn.

The Search.

Ramsey arose, put on his clothes and went out to the barn. The moon was towards its setting and the end of the barn in which the entrance was, was in shadow so that he could see nothing except wagon and open door, nor could he hear anything. He ran back to the house, told Mrs. Frank something must have happened to Joseph and he feared he was killed, as he never would have gone away without speaking of it. He took a kerosene lamp, returned to the barn and Saw Him Lying Motionless.

He ran back in a fright and went for Cyrus Shaw, a neighbor, aroused him, and the two returned and found Joseph stone dead with his face bruised and head cut nearly off a bloody axe lying beside him and the floor and walls splashed and covered with blood. They aroused the neighborhood, got a board and bore the ghastly corpse into the house, and acquainted the coroner and police as soon as possible.

Accomplishment of the Crime.

A Fiend's Work.

He was probably turning to the left to go around and feed the horse when he received a blow with the flat of the axe over the right eye. He fell backwards striking against the wall and lay quartering on his left side with the left cheek pressing on the floor, the left arm extended and right lying across the body. This left the right side of the neck exposed and the fiend, not content with killing him at the first stroke, struck him again with the flat side of the axe in the same place and turning it with two sharp strokes nearly severed the head from the body. The cut was made close up to the base of the skull and severed the spinal column and wind-pipe partly so that the head hung by a mere flap of flesh and muscle. With such energy were the strokes given that the axe cut through and gashed the left shoulder. The back of the head was also bruised, probably in falling. The lantern, carried in his left hand lay smashed a few feet off, and the axe, covered with blood, close beside the body. The axe, which was sharp, had been taken from the woodshed, where it had been left with a duller one. The dead man's wallet containing a dollar in change, was found untouched. The axe struck through into the floor, leaving marks.

No Clew—Object of the Murderer.

There is not the slightest clue to the murderer yet found and no suspicious person has been seen in the vicinity lately. Early this morning footsteps were seen in the dewey grass in an adjoining field. Lowe is described as a mild inoffensive man without enemies. He was not engaged or paying attention to anybody. He took but little money during the day and left that at home with Ramsey. During the evening he received about a dollar more which was found in his trowser's pocket untouched. It is thought the object of the murderer was plunder and finding no Fair money about him left the change untouched, or was frightened at Ramsey's approach. The murderer seemed acquainted with the premises from searching out the best axe in the shed.

The Family

are honest appearing country people. His mother, an aged widow, goes about in a dazed way as if not comprehending the calamity. Great excitement reigns in the neighborhood. Teams are coming from all directions. The funeral takes place Sunday afternoon. The Coroner empanelled a jury at noon.

The Coroner's Verdict.

The coroner's jury in the West Cumberland murder case returned a verdict that deceased died from injuries inflicted by parties unknown.

The Murderer's Familiarity with the Premises.

PORTLAND, Sept. 28. An examination into the murder shows that the murderer must have been familiar with the premises. In passing through the house he must have known of and pulled a concealed string to lift the hasp of the porch door at which he entered. The axe used for the murder was a very sharp one, and to have selected it in the dark would have been difficult for a stranger, as he had to reach over a pile of lumber first. A neighbor who had one of Lowe's horses brought it into the stable about midnight and put it up without seeing anything suspicious. A wagon with two men was seen going in the direction of Lowe's house by a neighbor shortly before the time of the murder.

Another thing which indicates the familiarity of the murderer with the premises was that a door in the house which was invariably closed, was found open. As it opened noiselessly but squeaked loudly in closing, it is inferred that the murderer left it open to avoid being detected. An interview with a neighbor elicited the information that dissatisfaction existed among the family at the distribution of the family property, but no suspicion rests upon any one living at home.

The Funeral

of Lowe took place at two o'clock this afternoon. Dr. Weston, of Westbrook Seminary, preached the funeral sermon from the text: "Is there no balm in Gilead?" A thousand people were present and three hundred carriages were counted. Great emotion was displayed by the audience, men weeping like children. The Cumberland Farmers' Club, sixty strong, wearing sprigs of evergreen, escorted the remains to the cemetery, followed by sixty carriages and a long procession on foot.

FROM DEXTER.

The Savings Bank Case.

DEXTER, Sept. 27. Mr. Piper, the expert employed in investigating the books of the Dexter Savings Bank, having completed his work, is preparing his report. It is asserted that his examination which has included all transactions of the bank from the beginning, has fully confirmed the previous statement of Barron's irregularities.

MARYLAND.

The Baltimore Abduction Case—Probable Marriage of the Heiress.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 27. John W. Walker, who was abducted to prevent his elopement with Miss McClellan, was released yesterday morning. Miss McClellan has disappeared. It is believed that she has met Walker and been married. She is an orphan, and worth $100,000.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

At Gloucester, Mass.—Loss $75,000.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Sept. 27. What proved to be a very disastrous fire broke out this morning in Carter's oil clothing manufactory. The fire got a good headway before it was discovered, and before it could be got under control a dozen buildings, mostly wooden, were destroyed. The buildings destroyed include Carter's factory, the Eureka House and a number of dwelling houses. The loss will reach $75,000. A hundred operatives will be thrown out of employment by the burning of Carter's factory. A large number of buildings were damaged.

At Jamestown, N. Y.—Loss $10,000.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 27. The old Congregational church, occupied as the armory of the 4th Infantry Company, has been burned. Loss $10,000; insured for $2,000.

At Holliston, Mass.

HOLLISTON, Mass., Sept. 27. The large stable of J. Daud and H. F. Shippee was burned this morning; the horses, carriages and harnesses were saved. Insurance $6,500, which exceeds the loss.

The Fire at Deadwood.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 27. Several St. Paul firms have sustained heavy losses at Deadwood, but in the prevailing confusion and lack of definite news it is impossible to give details. The proprietors of the Black Hills stage line says that only a barn, a small office and perhaps a few horses were burned. The main offices are out of town. The insurance must have been small, the Deadwood risk being regarded as peculiarly unsafe.

In Belton, Texas.—Loss $100,000.

BELTON, Tex., Sept. 27. A fire to-day destroyed five of the largest stores in town and two others were pulled down to stop the flames. Loss $100,000.

At Dover, N. H.—Loss $28,000.

DOVER, N. H., Sept. 27. A fire in the rear of Law's block early this morning spread to several large wooden buildings in the vicinity which were nearly all destroyed. The Belknap church was slightly damaged. Total loss about $28,000; insurance $20,000.

GENERAL GRANT

Don't Aspire to a Third Term.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27. Gen. Grant when asked by a reporter concerning a third term yesterday, replied, "Well, I don't aspire." He made no further response when the reporter asked what he would do if a nomination was tendered in a political exigency.

Negotiating for a Country Seat.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27. It is rumored that Gen. Grant has been negotiating for the purchase of the Galner mansion at Staten Island for his country seat.

The Banquet at San Jose.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 27. The banquet last evening in honor of General Grant was attended by about 100 prominent citizens, Mayor Archer presiding. At 10:30 the General and party were escorted to the depot, and took a train for San Francisco, where they arrived about midnight.

AFGHANISTAN.

Baker's Advance.

SIMLA, Sept. 27. Gen. Baker's brigade to-day will proceed to Zargun Shakr, where it will be joined by the force under Gen. Roberts, the last detachment of which leaves Ali Kheyl on Monday for Cabul. The Ameer's officials have been instructed not to oppose the advance of the British troops. A small body of Mohmunds assembled near Labrura, but dispersed. Six fatal cases of cholera in the Ninth Regiment.

TURKEY.

Secretly Assassinated.

LONDON, Sept. 27. A correspondent of the Times at Constantinople says that a person recently arrested for attempting to enter the palace has been secretly assassinated, it is believed at the instigation of an influential person, who, feeling his position insecure, believed the only means of averting his dismissal was by awakening the Sultan's fears of assassination, and fearing the person arrested might make disclosures, bribed a soldier to assassinate him.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Wendall Phillips Withdraws from the Greenback Ticket.

BOSTON, Sept. 28. Mr. Wendall Phillips has written a letter to Mr. H. M. Bearce, member of the Greenback committee, peremptorily declining to remain upon the ticket as the nominee for Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts. Alluding to the recent conversation to this effect with Mr. Bearce, and the request of the latter for a brief delay in which to consult the committee, Mr. Phillips writes as follows: "A week has passed and I do not hear that they have done anything about it, and now I claim that as their Convention used my name without consulting me, they shall withdraw it at my request." Mr. Phillips thinks he can serve the Greenback movement more efficiently by remaining outside of party lines.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEP'T, OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D. C., Sept. 29—(1 A. M.)

Indications.

For New England; Cloudy weather, with occasional rain, warmer southerly winds and falling barometer.

"THE GREAT MATCH."

Rowell Wins the Belt.

The Official Score.

Closing Scenes.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27. Quite a ripple of enthusiasm was caused when near nine o'clock as Rowell walked around with the American flag and Merritt ran around waving the Union Jack. The Band played Yankee Doodle and God Save the Queen, and the crowd cheered, whistled and clapped hands. The scene beggars description. The enthusiasm went beyond all bounds and cheering was renewed when a floral shield surmounted by waving corn was presented to Rowell. It bore the inscription: "To Charles Rowell, by the Albion Society." In a few minutes the uproar continued with redoubled vigor when Hazael, Merritt and Rowell came along the track hand in hand with Merritt in the middle. The noise was terrific and the building shook with the applause.—They stepped opposite the time keeper's stand and Rowell said: "Gentlemen, I thank you; I am through." The three then retired for good at 8.25, the scores being Rowell 530; Merritt 515; Hazael 500 miles, one lap.

Final and Official Score.

Guyon, Krohne, Ennis, Hart and Taylor were on the track at 9.10. Weston kept his tent waiting to see if Ennis or Krohne came to his score. The interest in the walk departed with Rowell, Merritt and Hazael, but 10,000 persons remained in the garden and Ennis received great applause as he proceeded toward his 450th mile. Ennis finished his 450th mile at 9.24, on the run, and was greeted with storms of applause. Taylor finished his 250th mile at a tremendous rate of speed and was presented with a pie. The final and official score of all the contestants is as follows: Rowell 530; Merritt, 515; Hazael 500 1 lap; Hart 482 4 laps; Guyon 471; Weston 455; Ennis 450 2 laps; Krohne 450 1 lap; Taylor 250 1 lap.

Rowell's Reception.

So ended the great six days' walk. A large crowd gathered at the Ashland House to witness the arrival of Rowell. He was at once escorted to the parlor and there heartily greeted by a few ladies and gentlemen. Rowell said he felt in good health and to-morrow he hoped, if the weather was fine, to have a peep at Central Park. He thought the struggle had been a hard one for most of the contestants, although the distance covered could not be considered the best anticipated. He denied that any attempt had been made to poison him. Subsequently Rowell was serenaded and in response made his appearance on the balcony. Lusty and hearty cheers were given, and after repeated bows he retired. Great crowds followed each of the pedestrians from the Garden and cheered them loudly. The race has been a greater financial success than the most sanguine of managers anticipated.

The Indian Government in view of the condition of affairs in Afghanistan, have requested of the home authorities permission to retain three regiments, which had been ordered to England.

The Times' Vienna correspondent learns that a radical difference still exists between Germany and the Vatican. While ready to make concessions in the application of the May laws, Prince Bismarck firmly adheres to the principle of State authority in church matters as established in those laws. This is a principle which the Vatican cannot allow.

It is reported that a new Russian four and a half per cent loan of $20,000,000 will be offered in London, the money to be devoted to the construction of railways, and another and larger loan for the requirements of Russia on account of war material.

The Prague firm of Reitler has been declared bankrupt.

A despatch from Berlin states that the last caution has been given to the Russian newspaper Ruskaia Pravda. Several Russian journals within the last few weeks have made a bold attack upon the Russian government respecting the Turcoman expedition, the cession of Kuldja to China and a disregard of all economy in public service.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Full moon Tuesday.

The weather yesterday was quite changeable.

Scarlet furs will, it is said, be worn this winter.

A new parasol handle has a tiny watch, which keeps accurate time.

J. F. Patten calls the attention of smokers to his assortment of cigars.

A fellow by the name of Scanlan had his face badly cut in a row Saturday night.

A special freight train arrived in this city Saturday over the Maine Central Railroad.

A party from this city go out on the old Air Line Road, near Beddington, on a hunting cruise this week.

O. M. Shaw, Esq., of Portland, has purchased of Mr. Jed. Hathaway his handsome black mare, paying a large price.

Very soft handkerchiefs for service are made of silk and linen spun together; they are creamy white, with a hem-stitched hem.

It is now time to expect the small boy and jack-o'-lantern to suddenly appear at your window during some of these pleasant evenings.

The many friends of Conductor Lunt, who formerly ran a train into this city, were pleased to see him at the Bangor House again yesterday.

McDonald, one of the men recently bound over for the alleged robbery of McArtney, was unable to get security and was taken to the jail Saturday.

Hon. E. M. Stillwell, Fish Commissioner, is now at Moosehead Lake for the purpose of making some arrangements for the hatching house at that place.

A single rose of immense size, with the petals of satin, silk, or velvet, is the new corsage flower, and is worn very high on the left side, almost on the shoulder.

Hosea R. Legro lost a valuable cow last Wednesday, apparently of heart disease, as the heart had expanded to twice the original size. This is a very rare case.

George A. Lowell, Esq., and wife, of Calais, were at the Bangor House yesterday, on their return home from an extended tour of some of the Western States.

The funeral of the late Captain C. F. H. Menges occurred at Mt. Hope yesterday afternoon under the direction of the Masons, some fifty members being present.

The ladies will be interested in E. H. Hall's advertisement in relation to his fall and winter goods. His stock is complete in all branches and prices are made to suit the times.

We learn that Messrs. Robbins & Herring, the enterprising publishers of the Dexter Gazette, contemplate starting a paper at Newport. It will be Republican in politics and wide-awake for news.

An owner is wanted for a horse, harness and express wagon now in custody of a party in Bucksport Village. The horse is a sorrel in color and thin in flesh. The wagon has a green body and red running gear.

To-day will be the last opportunity persons will have to purchase tickets for the Grand Trunk excursion, to Montreal and Quebec and return, at the low rate, which is less than one-third of the regular fare. Many are going.

Rev. H. W. Bolton, of Bangor, delivered his lecture on "Purpose," at Park street church, Thursday evening. The audience was delighted with the lecture. This lecture will be followed by others in a church course.—Lewiston Journal.

Persons that are thinking of mending their old carpet with a new one, this fall, are referred to A. H. Roberts & Son's advertisement in another column. They have all the latest designs and claim that their prices are as low as can be found in the largest markets.

A dust-colored wideawake, very soft and very furry, is one of the hats shown for the autumn. It is pinched in at the sides and turned up over the forehead, and a large knot of red plush makes the face trimming. It is said to be becoming, and to have an autocratic aspect.

The Jewelers Circular and Horological Review says: "People who are fond of punching holes in United States coin are perhaps not aware of the fact that such amusement is against the law of the land. The penalty for so doing is two years imprisonment and two thousand dollars fine for every offense."

TWENTY-SEVEN HOURS ON THE SAW-DUST. This evening the grand walking match between Toole and Holske will commence in Norombega Hall at half past seven o'clock, for a purse of one hundred dollars. The track was arranged Saturday and everything put in readiness for the walk. Season tickets can be obtained at J. H. Babb & Co.'s for seventy-five cents; general admission twenty-five cents. Tuesday evening Mrs. Holske will give an exhibition walk of two miles.

ACCIDENT. Yesterday afternoon as a gentleman and lady were driving down Chamberlain's hill, in Brewer, one of the wheels came off the carriage, throwing them both out. At first the gentleman thought he had broken on of his limbs, but soon found that they had both escaped with a few bruises. The horse turned and made his way into a field at the side of the road where he was captured. The carriage will need some repairs made before it will be fit for use again.

JEFFERSON. Subscriptions continue to come in well for the "Rip Van Winkle" night, and there is little doubt but the affair will prove a success. A list of forty subscribers were received on Saturday from Dover. A list is being made up in Waterville and Dexter, and Belfast will send delegations. It should be understood that the opening sale of tickets will be for subscribers only. Not a single seat will be checked off in advance, and the rule "first come, first served," will be strictly observed.

BUCKSPORT & BANGOR RAILROAD. On and after next Monday trains on the Bangor & Bucksport Railroad will arrive at and depart from the new station on Washington street. Connections will be made via the E. & N. A. Railway with the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad and also with the Maine Central. Passengers from the Maine Central will take the E. & N. A. Railway cars as far as the Junction, where they will change. Trains leave Bucksport at 6 A. M. and 1:45 P. M.; Bangor at 9 A. M. and 7:15 P. M.

THE BOYS' BENEFACTOR. At a recent fair held in North Brewer, York county, Stillman B. Allen, of Boston, the York county boys' benefactor, delivered a very eloquent and interesting address and at the close of his remarks made another generous offer to the boys for 1880, as follows: $100 to the boy who raises the most corn on one-eighth acre anywhere in the State; $50 to the next best, and $10 each to the five next best. If the boy who wins the first prize is a resident of York county he will receive a gold watch in addition thereto.

STATE PRISON. The Opinion says that Haynes, the murderer, was brought to prison Tuesday by Warden Tolman, to serve out a life sentence for his crimes.—Haynes came into the guard room smoking a cigar and apparently in the best of spirits. To Overseer Smith, who was at the prison when he served his first term there, he said, "I told you I was coming back here. When a man makes up his mind to live in State Prison, there is no use trying to stop him." He has been put to work in the carriage shop.

THE JEWISH FEAST OF ATONEMENT. Friday evening the solemn fast of Yom Kippur, or Day of Atonement, the most important observance in the Jewish ritual, was commenced by the Jewish people throughout the world. The fast lasted from sundown on Friday evening until sunset on Saturday evening, and during these twenty-four hours the devout Israelite did not permit either food or drink of any kind to pass his lips. The fast is kept in all its pristine strictness by the orthodox Jews, but in this country the Reform Jews have grown lax in its observance, and in many congregations have abolished it altogether.

AN ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE. Two patients at the Insane Hospital made an unsuccessful dash for liberty a day or two ago. They were out in the enclosed park taking the usual airing which is so kindly allowed them by the officers, when, in some way, they managed to evade the eyes of the attendants, and make their escape. They were soon discovered as they went cutting through the fields in the direction of the river, and the attendants followed in pursuit. One was easily taken, but the other was said to have leaped into the river and to strike out for the other shore. This undertaking he soon gave up and he was taken to his old quarters.

LOST HIS TEETH. A gentleman stopping at one of our hotels met with an accident yesterday, that at first caused considerable surprise among those gentlemen present at the time. He was taken with a violent fit of coughing in the afternoon and during one of the spells, more severe than any of the others, his teeth flew out and went nearly across the office. As soon as he was able to see he looked up when he noticed that his companions seemed somewhat surprised, and informed them there was no occasion for any alarm, as the teeth were all false, and started to pick them up; but just then an individual, ignorant of what had happened, came along and placed one of his number tens on the artificial grinders, fixing them so that the gentleman was unable to take much solid food for his supper that evening.

A WORTHLESS CHARACTER. Yesterday afternoon Jack Fury was arrested on French street by Officers Weymouth and Gordon for drunkenness, and was taken to the station house. He never ceased talking from the time the officers took him until placed in a cell, and made use of the most foul language as he passed through the streets. This Fury is one of the vilest and most worthless characters in the city, and when full of liquor, which is the greater part of the time when he is out of jail, he is a perfect brute. Saturday afternoon he was down on Exchange street, drunk as usual, using the most profane and indecent language, making it unfit for ladies to pass and not altogether pleasant for gentlemen, as they were liable to be insulted. Fury has recently served a sentence of ninety days in jail, and if he gets what he deserves he will rusticate behind the bars for some time to come.

BROUGHT TO JUSTICE. During the latter part of August some one broke into the schooner Henry, then lying near Brewer Village, and carried away some groceries and the boat belonging to the vessel. A complaint was made at the time, but it was not until recently that Marshal Reed got some clue to the affair, and since then he has been quietly investigating it. From a woman by the name of Hattie Lane, he learned that one Joseph Mitchell, an Indian, was the man he was after and on Friday he drove to Carmel, where the man was stopping, arrested him and brought him back to this city. Saturday he was arraigned in the Police Court and bound over to the February term in the sum of four hundred dollars for breaking and entering, and in default of bail he was committed for safe keeping. The Lane woman was also put under two hundred dollars bonds, as principal witness, and being unable to furnish security, she, too, was committed to jail. The boat has not been recovered as it was set adrift by Mitchell.

MASS MEETING AT OLDTOWN. Persons coming over Maine Central Railroad to attend the mass temperance meeting at Oldtown to-morrow, can procure round trip tickets to Bangor at half fare by asking for tickets issued for the Convention of the "Woman's Christian Temperance Union" at Bangor this week. Tickets good for the week. Those going over the E. & N. A. Railway can go on any of the regular trains that day, returning at the close of the meeting on a special train. Fare, fifty cents; tickets to be purchased at the depot. The meetings will be addressed by Rev. Geo. H. Vibbert, of Massachusetts; Rev. A. S. Ladd, of Portland; Rev. Messrs. Fay, Bolton, Howard, Jameson, and by C. A. Page, Mrs. C. V. Crossman, Mrs. S. J. Pickard, and several others, of Bangor; Rev. Mr. Blanchard and others, of Oldtown; Andrew J. Chase, G. W. C. T., of Deering, and probably Neal Dow, of Portland. Speaking at ten o'clock in the morning, two o'clock in the afternoon and seven o'clock in the evening. Select vocal and instrumental music.

THE REFORM CLUB meeting yesterday was quite largely attended, and the audience listened to remarks that were earnest and cheerful. Vice-President Whittier Presided. Beautiful vocal selections were given by the excellent choir. Opening prayer by Mr. Archibald of the Club. Remarks full of zeal and good taste from Messrs. Page, Richardson and McIntyre, followed the opening exercises. Rev. Mr. Speare was next introduced. The speaker said: "As long as the Club exists earnest workers will be found in this grand cause; nothing shall shake them from their good purpose; am called frequently to visit homes where intemperance hangs as the shadow; am a believer in prohibiting the sale of drams and in favor of that law whose right arm shall sweep from our midst the cause of so much trouble. As lovers of good order it is as right to teach men not to drink as not to steal. Who aid and abet crime? Where are the springs and fountains from which it flows? If at grog shops, why not punish the keepers thereof? I am confident that the time is coming when a blow will be struck wisely and heavily; the Maine Law is not always to be a dead letter or a by-word on streets, where brilliant lights show to husbands and brothers that to look upon the wine when it is red one only has to enter, and they who gratify their appetites imperil their souls' happiness for both worlds." Mr. Hackett, of the Seminary; Mr. Franklin Whittier, of the Club; Mrs. Wescott, of Gorham; Mrs. Prentiss and Mrs. Crossman, of the Crusade, all spoke to the point and with profit to the cause.

GEN. TOM THUMB TROUPE. The young people of our city and many of the older ones, will be pleased to learn that the ever popular Gen. Tom Thumb and wife, will visit Bangor next Saturday when they will give two entertainments, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. The troupe numbers nine artists, and the original piece entitled "The Mischievous Monkey," makes an endless amount of fun for the audience. They have been making a tour of the Provinces where they have been greeted with large houses at every entertainment. The company will be in Oldtown Thursday and Orono Friday.—Tom Thumb is now forty-four years old and has been on exhibition for thirty-seven years.

A SEVERE LOSS. Marshal Reed lost a valuable horse Saturday. As is stated elsewhere, he drove to Carmel after an Indian and was returning to the city with his man, when he discovered that his horse acted strangely and seemed to be exhausted. He was near Hermon at the time and made up his mind that he would change horses at that place, but it was with considerable difficulty that he urged the animal along, as she seemed to be suffering greatly and wanted to stop. When he reached Hermon he took the horse into a stable and afterwards changed her to the stable of Deputy Sheriff Patten, and then came home with one of Mr. Patten's horses. Saturday morning Mr. Patten came in and informed Marshal Reed that the horse was dead, and taking a horse doctor with him Mr. Reed drove out to Hermon. A post mortem examination was made, when it was found that the animal's stomach had been badly eaten by ulcers, which had finally caused death. Mr. Reed is an exceedingly efficient officer, performing all his arduous duties in a manner that gives the best of satisfaction, and we regret that he has met with this loss, which is a severe one to a man only getting the salary paid Mr. Reed by the city.

PENOBSCOT MUSICAL ASSOCIATION.—The lateness of the hour at which the final concert of the Musical Association closed on Friday evening, and the press of matter in our columns prevented more than a cursory reference to the soloists, among whom the following are specially deserving. The song "Cupa Fata" by Centemeri, was sung by Mrs. W. H. Gardiner in a pleasing manner, and in response to an encore she sang "Longing" by Barker. The beautiful Scotch ballad "Charlie Macree" by Dow, was sung by Miss Nellie A. Chapman in her best style, and being encored she sang "Killarny" by Balfe. "Prayer and Barcarole" by Meyerbeer, was finely rendered by Mrs. W. F. Shaw, and in response to a richly deserved encore she sang in a beautiful manner "Milkmaid's Marriage Song" by Kelley. "Hast thou seen the Land" by Miss Nellie A. Blaisdell, was pleasingly rendered, and receiving a recall Miss Blaisdell sang "Old Folks at Home." Concert Polka was played in excellent style by Andrews' orchestra for the closing number. The song "Lo! hear the gentle Lark" was very brilliantly rendered by Miss L. M. Cook, and in response to an encore she sang "Magnetic Waltz" by Arditi. In the resolution of thanks to the prominent soloists, the names of Miss Cook and Messrs. Patten and Haynes were accidentally omitted in copying.

Police Court.

John Harrington, of Carmel, was arraigned in the Police Court, Saturday, for an assault on John Currier, and fined $10 and costs, which he paid.

James Kenney, of Carmel, was fined five dollars and costs for drunkenness, and in default of payment he was committed to jail.

Barney Cassiday, for the same offense, was dealt with in a similar manner.

Stolen Letters Returned.

The Belfast Journal says: "Last spring the firm of E. J. Morrison & Co., of this city, lost several letters through the mails, or at least a number did not reach their proper destination. One, written on the 7th of May, addressed to Messrs. Charles Wing & Co., of Amesbury, Mass, contained a check of $66.71, on the Belfast National Bank. Payment, of course, was stopped on the lost check, and the matter adjusted with the Amesbury firm. Nothing was heard from the lost letters until recently, when Morison & Co. received a letter postmarked at Portland, containing the check and all the missing documents. The letter is without date, written in a handsome but disguised hand, and is as follows:

A few letters were abstracted from the United States mail some time last spring, among which was the enclosed. The party thought at first to negotiate the check and raise a few greenbacks thereon, but changed their minds. As they have now become hard money men, have concluded to send the check back to its father for redemption. Hoping it has not caused you, or the parties for whom it was intended, much trouble, we remain,

Yours respectfully,
'HARD MONEY.'

Orders Received at This Port.

Orders have been issued from Washington to the various collectors of ports to inspect all vessels, with a view of ascertaining the proportion of the crew to the tonnage, for the re-adjustment of the United States Marine Hospital Service. The various inspectors will visit all the vessels that arrive at each port and fill out the following blank, which will be forwarded to the department at Washington:

Name of vessel.
How rigged.
Tonnage.
Kind of traffic.
Present cargo.
Number of men on board at date.
Waters navigated.
Number of men ordinarily carried.
Number of months in year employed.
Number of men required to take care of vessel when laid up.

To Consumptives. WILBOR'S COD LIVER OIL and Lime has now been before the public twenty years, and has steadily grown in favor and appreciation. This could not be the case unless the preparation was of high intrinsic value. The combination of the Phosphate of Lime with pure Cod-Liver Oil, as prepared by Dr. Wilbor, has produced a new phase in the treatment of Consumption and all diseases of the Lungs. This article can be taken by the most delicate invalid without creating the disgusting nausea which is such an objection to the Cod-Liver Oil when taken without Lime. It is prescribed by the regular faculty. Sold by the proprietor, A. B. Wilbor, Chemist, Boston, and by all druggists. eod1w sp29

Dr. Briggs has again postponed an engagement and will remain at the Bangor House until Monday evening next, Oct. 6th. His unparalled success with his new discoveries, Medicated Oxygenated Vapor, Catarrh Specifics and other remedies used and prescribed in making speedy and radical cure of Catarrh, Acute, Chronic, Ulcerated or Dry, Cold in the Head, Headache, Relaxed Pallet, Pharyngitis, Laryngitis, Tracheatis, Bronchitis and all early symptoms of consumption. Medicated Vapor and other specifics can be tested free. They are delightful in effect, absolute in results. sept30

As caloric, electricity and phosphorus are induced and supplied by Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, it only requires the administration of this successful invention to fortify the feeble, give sprightliness and motion to the torpid, and bring about a condition which not only secures tenaciousness of life BUT MAKES LIFE REALLY ENJOYABLE. eod&w sp29

WEALTH EASILY OBTAINED. Jay Gould, combining vast amounts of money with several great capitalists, has frequently made colossal profits in stock speculations, paying millions to each shareholder. The new combination plan of Messrs. Lawrence & Co. confers similar benefits on the shareholders who invest small and large amounts, from $25 to $10,000. The money of thousands of customers is thus massed in one mighty sum, and operated with the ripest experience and best skill, has secured the most brilliant successes. A hotel keeper in Ohio invested $100 in a combination, which netted $478. Three reinvestments resulted in a total profit of $13,801.18. A Boston gentleman invested $500 in a combination, which yielded a profit of $2,817.04; two reinvestments netted him $3,644.31. A Chicago merchant made $43,210.41 in four months of combination investments. New explanatory circular with "rules for unerring success." Apply to Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, New York City. eod2w sp29

The large number of ladies and gentlemen who have tried Dr. Briggs' Medicated Oxygenated Vapor in the last three weeks, all of whom having pronounced it agreeable, efficacious and scientific, both in the process of administering and the medicating combinations, has induced Dr. Briggs to prolong his stay in Bangor, at the Bangor House, another week, until Monday next, Oct. 6, where his Medicated Vapor and other specifics may be tested free from 8 A. Never in the history of Medical practice has any method of treatment proved so eminently successful as the Medicated Oxygenated Vapor as administered and prescribed by Dr. Briggs in connection with his other specifics, at the Bangor House, where he has consented to remain until Monday next, Oct. 6th, sep29

CURED OF DRINKING.

"A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for Liquor, that had so prostrated his system that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady, and he has remained a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups, and I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it."—From a leading R. Dr. Briggs at the Bangor House, is constantly engaged in exhibiting his Medicated Oxygenated Vapor for Catarrh, Throat and Lung Affections.

CONSUMPTION—ITS CAUSE AND CURE.—Consumption, a dreaded and fatal disease. This will not be denied. To cure it any stage requires constitutional as well as local treatment. It is not hereditary, but constitutional tendencies may follow one generation after another, hence more easily affected. The local developments or early stage of consumption is the formation of albuminous tumors, denominated tubercles in the lungs, when they soften and break, discharging their contents; the more formidable and alarming symptoms appear when ulcerated cavities are thus formed. Commencing at the summit, consuming and destroying the lungs in their progress to the very base. Does it seem reasonable we should apply no soothing, cleansing, purifying and healing remedy direct to the diseased lungs? When medicated oxygenated vapor is so agreeable to use and so reliable in effect, why should we not resort to it at once, and thus ward off future suffering, danger and death? The general practitioner does not treat consumption with inhalation but every rational, thinking, medical man must candidly admit this is the only scientific and successful method of applying medicinal affects directly to the organs implicated. Neglect in this respect is very disastrous to human life, hence our graves are filled with thousands upon thousands of the most amiable, beautiful, and beloved ones torn from the family circle by that prince of terrors, consumption.

When proper constitutional and local treatment would have prolonged their lives and made them ornaments in society, happy in their homes and vouchsafed to them the enjoyments of all earthly blessings to a ripe old age, what a picture to contemplate. The medical profession does not ignore other diseases as they do consumption and the various affections of the respiratory organs. All external inflammations, skin diseases, cuts, bruises, sore eyes, sores, ulcers, etc., etc., are treated by local application.

Why, then should the lining membranes of the air tubes which become inflamed extending through all their branches and connections, be neglected and allow the fell destroyer to obtain a victim when Dr. Josiah Briggs' Medicated Oxygenated Vapor will soothe, purify, heal and restore the lungs and all connecting air passages to a healthy and natural condition, used together with other remedies having a specific affect, will restore the shattered constitution, making the patient grateful and friends happy. Consult Dr. Josiah Briggs on Catarrh, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Consumption and all diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. Medicated Oxygenated Vapor can be tested free from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. Call and try at the Bangor House until Monday evening, October 6th, only. This is the last opportunity.

BE YE LIKE FOOLISH.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Be ye likewise foolish."—H. W., Detroit, Mich.

THE BANGOR DAILY WHIG and COURIER will commence its Forty-Sixth Volume with the New Year, with all departments fully equipped and prepared to maintain its position as one of The Leading Daily Papers of New England.

THE WHIG AND COURIER receives all the telegraphic news of the Maine Associated Press, and has an extensive corps of correspondents throughout the State, with special writers at the State and National Capitals. The Publishers aim to make it in all respects a devoting care to the presentation of entertaining and instructive news and literary matter; to the encouragement of Agriculture, manufacturing and other home interests; with original and selected stories and poetry, book reviews, and choice miscellany.

ITS REGULAR REPORTS

will give the proceedings of Congress and the State Legislature, with telegraphic quotations of the Produce and Financial Markets; and events at Augusta this winter will be chronicled daily by a thoroughly-informed special correspondent.

IN THE POLITICAL FIELD

the WHIG AND COURIER will continue to advocate and uphold the Principles of the Republican Party, while claiming to be independent, in the highest and best sense of the word. Fearless and outspoken in the treatment of all public questions and firmly maintaining what they believe to be right, they will avoid intolerance and make their appeals to the understanding rather than to prejudice. The coming year will be one of the most important in the political history of the country, and the WHIG AND COURIER congratulates itself that the Republican Party of the Union will enter the year 1879 united upon the platform of Principles which that paper has steadfastly maintained while so many wavered. Its aim will be in the future, as in the past, to give the earliest and most reliable information and to favor only such measures and policy as will best protect the rights and promote the welfare of all the people.

The Whig and Courier

will be sent by mail postage-paid, at the following rates, invariably in advance $8 00 per year; $4.00 for 6 mos.; $2 for 3 mos.

THE BANGOR WEEKLY COURIER

is the largest weekly paper published in New England. Every issue is accompanied by a two-page Supplement, making a newspaper of almost entirely devoted to reading matter. It contains all the latest telegraph news up to the hour of going to press, and gives the substance of a whole week's edition of the Daily, with a large amount of family reading.

Terms, postage paid, in advance:
$2 00 per year, $1.00 for 6 mos; $50 cts. for 3 mos.

Or to Clubs in any one town:
15 copies for 1 year, $27.00; 25 copies 1 year, $43.75; 50 copies 1 year, $75 00, with copy free to person remitting money for the club.

Send for a free specimen copy.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot.

The undersigned, Executor of the Last Will and Testament of Mason Skinner, late of Garland, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that certain real estate, to wit: a parcel of land in said Garland, being a part of lot No. 4, in the first range of lots in said town, is a part of the estate of the deceased which was held by said deceased in a mortgage to him from Alonzo F. Bachelder, recorded in the Penobscot Registry for deeds, Vol. 402, page 70, which mortgage was foreclosed and the foreclosure recorded in same Registry of Foreclosures, Vol. F, page 183; that it will be more for the benefit of the parties in interest that said land should be sold by the said executor and the money distributed as in other cases of personal estate, rather than distributed in the manner provided by law for the partition of real estate.

Wherefore your petitioner prays that you will order said land to be so sold that the money may be so distributed.

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails—the down town boxes fifteen and the up town boxes thirty minutes before closing mails at the office.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window,) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

☞ The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

First class envelopes of above furnished at $32.2- per thousand.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used to prepay postage. The use of such Stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars.

Stamped Envelopes, spoiled in directing, are redeemed at this office.

DOMESTIC POSTAGE.

FIRST CLASS.

All Letters must be Pre-paid.—Letters for the Mails in the United States, three cents the half ounce or single rate. City letters, two cents half ounce or single rate.

SECOND CLASS.

Newspapers.

All regular newspapers must be prepaid at the office of publication, at the rate of two cents per pound for each issue. The same law applies to dealers.

County papers free, except to letter carrier offices, i.e. papers coming to this office, if published in County, are subject to postage. Daily papers published in County, if delivered by carrier, one cent each, to be prepaid by stamps.

Postage to Canada.—Same as in the States on letters and papers, pre-payment compulsory; merchandise limited to 8 oz., postage 10 cents.

THIRD CLASS.

TRANSIENT PRINTED MATTER AND BOOKS AND MERCHANDISE.

One Cent for Two Ounces.

Almanacs, books (printed), calendars, catalogues, corrected proofs, hand bills, magazines, maps—lithographed or engraved—music, printed sheets, newspapers, occasional publications, pamphlets, posters, proof sheets, prospectuses.

One cent for each ounce.

Blank books, blank cards, book manuscripts, card boards and other flexible materials, chromo lithographs, circulars, engravings, envelopes, flexible patterns, letter envelopes, letter paper, lithographs, merchandise, models, ornamental paper, postal cards when sent in bulk and not addressed, photographic views, photographic paper, printed blanks, printed cards, sample cards, samples of ores, metals, minerals and merchandise, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions, stereoscopic views.

All packages of matter of third class must be so wrapped or enveloped, with open sides or ends, that their contents may be readily and thoroughly examined by postmasters without destroying the wrappers.

The sender of a package of third class matter may write his or her name on the wrapper with the word "from," but nothing more, without subjecting the whole to letter postage.

Third class matter can be registered by paying the fee of ten cents.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

All letters remaining in the office are advertised on Monday of each week. If not claimed in one month thereafter, they are then forwarded to the Dead Letter office.

MONEY ORDERS.

Especial attention is called to the Money Order system, as a safe and cheap method of transmitting small sums through the mails. Orders are issued in sums of not more than fifty dollars. Larger amounts can be transmitted to the same person, at the same time, by additional orders.

RATES.

On orders not exceeding $15, 10 cents.
over $15 and not exceeding $30, 15 cents.
over $30 and not exceeding $40, 20 cents.
over $40 and not exceeding $50, 25 cents.

Money Orders can also be obtained on England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Switzerland and German States.

Never put Money in a Letter—Always Procure a Money Order.

If money is to be remitted, a Postal Money Order should be obtained. If upon points where there is no Money Order Office, then the letter should be Registered. Money should never be enclosed in an ordinary letter.

Office Hours—From 8 A. M. to 5 P. M.

REGISTRY DEPARTMENT.

All valuable letters should be Registered, unless a Money Order is obtained. Under the present system of Registration, letters are transmitted with perfect safety.

Letters may be Registered by paying postage in full, and a Registration fee in stamps, for—
United States, 10 cents.
Great Britain and Ireland, and all Countries having a postal treaty with the United States, 10 cents.

Office Hours—From 8 A. M. to 6 P. M.

SCRIBNERS MONTHLY,

CONDUCTED BY J. G. HOLLAND.

The Handsomest Illustrated Magazine in the World.

The American edition of this periodical is now MORE THAN 70,000 MONTHLY,

And it has a larger circulation in England than any other American magazine. Every number contains about one hundred and fifty pages, and from fifty to seventy-five original wood cut illustrations.

Announcements for 1878--9.

Among the attractions for the coming year are the following:

"HAWORTH'S," a serial novel, by Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, author of "That Lass o' Lowrie's." The scene of Mrs. Burnett's new novel is laid in Lancashire, the hero is a young inventor of American birth. "Haworth's" is the longest story Mrs. Burnett has yet written. It will run through twelve numbers of the Monthly, beginning with November, 1878, and will be profusely illustrated.

FALCONBERG, a serial novel, by H. H. Boyesen, author of "Gunnar," "The Man who Lost His Name," &c. In this romance, the author graphically describes the peculiarities of Norse immigrant life in a Western Settlement.

A STORY OF NEW ORLEANS, by George W. Cable, to be begun on the conclusion of "Falconberg." This story will exhibit the state of society in Creole Louisiana about the years 1803-4-5, the time of the Cession, and a period bearing a remarkable likeness to the present Reconstruction period.

PORTRAITS OF AMERICAN POETS. This series (begun in August with the portrait of Bryant) will be continued, that of Longfellow appearing in November. These portraits are drawn from life by Wyatt Eaton and engraved by T. Cole. They will be printed separately on tinted paper, as frontispieces of four different numbers. Illustrated sketches of the lives of the poets will accompany these portraits.

STUDIES IN THE SIERRAS.—A series of papers (mostly illustrated) by John Muir, the California naturalist. The most graphic and picturesque and, at the same time, exact and trustworthy studies of "The California Alps" that have yet been made. The series will sketch the Californian Passes, Lakes, Wind Storms and Forests.

A NEW VIEW OF BRAZIL. Mr. Herbert H. Smith, of Cornell University, a companion of the late Prof. Hartt, is now in Brazil, with Mr. J. Wells Champney (the artist who accompanied Mr. Edward King in his tour through "The Great South"), preparing for SCRIBNER a series of papers on the present condition,—the cities, rivers and resources of the great empire of South America.

THE "JOHNNY REB" PAPERS, by an "ex-Confederate" soldier, will be among the raciest contributions to Scribner during the coming year. They are written and illustrated by Mr. Allen C. Redwood, of Baltimore. The first of the series, "Johnny Reb at Play," appears in the November number.

THE LEADING EUROPEAN UNIVERSITIES. We are now having prepared, for SCRIBNER, articles on the leading Universities of Europe. They will be written by an American College Professor Mr. H. H. Boyesen, of Cornell (author of "Falconberg," etc.,) and will include sketches of the leading men in each of the most important Universities of Great Britain and the Continent.

Among the additional series of papers to appear may be mentioned those on HOW SHALL WE SPELL (two papers by Prof. Lounsbury), THE NEW SOUTH, LAWN-PLANTING FOR SMALL PLACES (by Samuel Parsons, of Flushing), CANADA OF TO-DAY, AMERICAN ART AND ARTISTS, AMERICAN ARCHÆOLOGY, MODERN INVENTORS; also, Papers of Travel, History, Physical Science, Studies in Literature, Political and Social Science, Stories, Poems; "Topics of the Time," by Dr. J. G. Holland; record of New Inventions and Mechanical Improvements; Papers on Education, Decoration, etc.; Book Reviews, fresh bits of Wit and Humor, etc., etc., etc.

Terms, $4 a Year in advance;
35 cents a Number.

Subscriptions received by the publishers of this paper, and by all booksellers and postmasters. Persons wishing to subscribe direct with the publishers, should write name, Post-office, County, and State, in full, and send with remittance in check, P. O. Money Order, or registered letter to

ST. NICHOLAS,

Scribner's Illustrated Magazine

FOR GIRLS AND BOYS.

AN IDEAL CHILDREN'S MAGAZINE.

Messrs. SCRIBNER & Co., in 1873, began the publication of ST. NICHOLAS, an Illustrated Magazine for Girls and Boys, with Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge as editor. Five years have passed since the first number was issued, and the magazine has won the highest position. It has a monthly circulation of OVER 50,000 COPIES.

It is published simultaneously in London and New York, and the transatlantic recognition is almost as general and hearty as the American. Although the progress of the magazine has been a steady advance, it has not reached its editor's ideas of best, because her ideal continually outruns it, and the magazine as swiftly follows after. To-day ST. NICHOLAS stands

Alone in the World of Books:

The New-York Tribune has said of it: "ST. NICHOLAS has reached a higher platform, and commands for its service wider resources in art and letters than any of its predecessors or contemporaries." The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal this choice production of Scribner's press."

Good Things for 1878--9.

The arrangements for literary and art contributions for the new volume—the sixth—are complete, drawing from already favorite sources, as well as from promising new ones. Mr. Frank R. Stockton's new serial story for boys,

"A JOLLY FELLOWSHIP,"

Will run through the twelve monthly parts,—beginning with the number for November, 1878, the first of the volume,—and will be illustrated by James E. Kelly. The story is one of travel and adventure in Florida and the Bahamas. For the girls, a continued tale,

"Half a Dozen Housekeepers,"

By Katharine D. Smith, with illustrations by Frederick Dielman, begins in the same number, and a fresh serial by Susan Coolidge, entitled "Eyebright," with plenty of pictures, will be commenced early in the volume. There will also be a continued fairy-tale called

"Rumpty Dudget's Tower,"

Written by Julian Hawthorne, and illustrated by Alfred Fredericks. About the other familiar features of St. Nicholas, the editor preserves a good-humored silence, content, perhaps, to let her five volumes already issued, prophesy concerning the sixth, in respect to short stories, pictures, poems, humor, instructive sketches, and the lure and lore of "Jack-in-the-Pulpit," the "Very Little Folks" department, and the "Letter-box," and "Riddle-box."

Terms, $3.00 a year; 25 cents a Number.

In the matter of FRED P. FRYE, Bankrupt,

IN BANKRUPTCY.

This is to give notice that a petition has been presented to the Court, this 1st day of September, 1879, by Fred P. Frye of Carmel, a Bankrupt, individually and as a member of the firm of J. [illegible] Frye & Sons, praying that he may be decreed to have a full discharge from all his debts, [illegible] dual and copartnership, provable under the Bankrupt Act, and upon reading said petition,

It is ordered by the Court that a hearing be had upon the same, on the first Monday of November A. D. 1879, before the Court in Portland, in said District, at 10 o'clock A. M., and that the second meeting of the creditors of said Bankrupt be held before Chas. Hamlin, Esq., Register, on the 2[illegible] day of October, 1879, and the third meeting of the same on the 20th day of October, 1879, and that notice thereof be published in the Bangor Daily Whig & Courier and the Rockland Gazette, newspapers printed in said District, once a week for three successive weeks, and once in the weekly Bangor Courier, the last publication to be thirty days at least before the day of hearing, and that all creditors who have proved their debts and other persons in interest, may appear at said time and place, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said Petition should not be granted.

District of Maine, ss.

The President of the United States of America,
[L. S.] To the Marshal of our District of Maine, or his Deputy, Greeting.

We command you to make known in the manner by law prescribed, that a libel is filed in our District Court of Maine, against two hundred and forty-six tons of hard coal now on the wharf of Bacon & Huckins, and twenty-five tons more or less of hard coal on the old wharf of the Sanford Steamship Company, all in Bangor, and against all persons intervening for their interest in said coal on behalf of Alson Veazie and others owners of the brig Serena P. Smith, in a cause of freight and general average contribution, civil and maritime, as more particularly set forth in the said libel, that a hearing and trial will be had thereon at Portland in our said District, on the first day of September next, at 3 P. M., when and where any persons interested therein, may appear and show cause, if any can be shown, wherefore the same should not be decreed liable, and disposed of according to law. Hereof fail not, and make return of this writ, with your doings herein, into our said Court, at Portland aforesaid.

Witness, the Hon. EDWARD FOX, at Portland, the eighteenth day of August, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot:

The undersigned, Guardian of Phebe H. Palmer, minor daughter of John M. Palmer, late of Bangor, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that said deceased died possessed of personal estate, an inventory of which has been duly returned into the Probate Office, that the estate of said deceased is insolvent, that he left no widow, that said Phebe H. is between the ages of fourteen and twenty one years, to wit, twenty years of age, and unable from ill health to work—the only child of said deceased, and that her circumstances render it necessary that she should have an allowance from said personal estate.

He therefore, in behalf of his said ward, prays that your Honor would grant her such allowance out of said personal estate, as in your discretion you may determine necessary and proper.
